There can be no doubt that this order was plearly justified by the provisions of sections 3929 and 4041 of the Revised Statutes. It expressly recites that the evidence which and thorized the Postmaster-General to act in the premises was satisfactory to him. His action for the continuous section of May, 1833, M. The only question in connection with it which could be judicially examined reliates to the power of Corgress to confer upon him the authority under which his acted. The doctrine is now settled that the consts will not interfere by mandanus or injunction with an executive department in the discharge of its duties unless they are of a character purely ministerial and involve no exercise of discretion or judgment.

A subsequent order of Postmaster-General Key is in these words:
